Davidson County traffic stop results in deputies hit with urine, blood

LEXINGTON — A Siler City man is accused of throwing urine on Davidson County deputies and spitting blood on another Thursday.

A traffic stop for an incorrect license plate led to an arrest on methamphetamine charges Monday night.

Steven Michael Sisk Jr., 34, of 533 Vernon Bradley Road in Old Fort, was charged with possession with intent to manufacture, sell or deliver methamphetamine, possession of drug paraphernalia and maintaining a dwelling, vehicle or place for drugs or a controlled substance, according to the arrest report from the Morganton Department of Public Safety.

Sisk's charges came after an officer conducted a traffic stop for an incorrect license plate, the report said. When an officer approached Sisk and told him the reason for the stop, Sisk said that the license plate was not correct and that his driver's license was revoked. While Public Safety Officer J. J. Marshall checked for warrants on Sisk, he threw three cigarette butts out of the driver's window.

PSO Huffman and K - 9 Jaros were called in for an open-air sniff of Sisk's vehicle, which led to Jaros indicating a controlled substance inside the vehicle, the report said. Officers searched the car and cut a seat open, discovering about 4.3 grams of a substance that field tested as methamphetamine and a single used hypodermic syringe.

Marshall cited Sisk for driving with license revoked, no proof of insurance, expired tag, expired inspection, no registration, unsafe tires, littering less than 15 pounds and fictitious registration, the report said.

Sisk has previous convictions of forgery, obtaining property through worthless checks, common law robbery and larceny, according to the North Carolina Department of Public Safety website.

Sisk was given a $20,000 secured bond and taken to Burke-Catawba Detention Confinement Facility, the report said. His next court date is set for Sept. 4.
