

Alberto Ramon Alonso currently serves as Commander of the Downtown Medical District at the Tulane University Police Department.

Captain Alonso first joined the Tulane University Police Department in October 1995 and has served in numerous patrol and specialized assignments throughout his 22 year career. Throughout his career, he has served in a variety of assignments, including Patrol Officer, Shift Supervisor, Chemical Weapons Instructor, Senior Firearms Instructor, Defensive Tactics Instructor Trainer, POST Academy Instructor and Active Shooter Instructor and as Department FTO Coordinator.

Captain Alonso has also served in various leadership assignments including leading the Uptown District, Support Services and the Special Operations Division. While leading the Support Services Division, Captain Alonso closely assisted with the return of Football to Tulane's Uptown campus after a 40 year hiatus and planned numerous complex details and demonstrations.

He holds numerous certifications in Law Enforcement Training, Tactical Combat Casualty Care (TCCC) / Emergency Medical Training (EMT), is a credentialed Certified Law Enforcement Trainer (CLET) and IALEFI Master Firearms Instructor.

Captain Alonso is currently pursuing his degree at Tulane University School of Professional Studies in Homeland Security. Captain Alonso is a proud veteran of the United States Army where he served as a Sapper certified Combat Engineer.

Captain Alonso can be reached at alonso504@me.com or 504-570-0693.