

Anthony Bandiero

Anthony is the owner of Blue to Gold Law Enforcement Training, a company dedicated to training officers around the country in constitutional law. Blue to Gold's primary focus is search and seizure, use of force, and interview and interrogation practices.

Before starting Blue to Gold, Anthony worked as a law enforcement officer with experience as both a municipal police officer and sergeant with a state police agency. During that time Anthony became a subject matter expert in firearms, use of force, search warrant executions, interview and interrogations, emergency vehicle operations, and other subjects.

Anthony has published two books. His first book, The Search & Seizure Survival Guide, articulates over 160 legal doctrines in plain and easy to understand English. It has become the best-selling search and seizure book on Amazon and has been used by over 700 agencies nationwide. The other book, Cops and Cameras, evaluates the effect body-worn cameras has on both officers and the public they serve.

Finally, Anthony has a bachelor's and master's degree from Harvard University. He is currently completing law degree from Gonzaga University (graduates May, 2019).
