

James Molloy

James Molloy is a professional public safety instructor who enjoys working with students and public safety professionals to prepare them to better serve their communities. With over 40 years of experience in law enforcement, fire, and emergency medical service, Jim has real-world experience, allowing him to connect with the audience while sharing knowledge gained from “working the streets.”

Jim has served as a Firefighter/EMT with the El Paso Fire Department, a Public Safety Lieutenant with the Dallas/Fort Worth Airport Department of Public Safety, a Traffic/Accident Investigation Officer and Tactical Team Operator with the Arlington Texas Police Department, and a Sergeant with the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

As the Commander of DFW’s Hazardous Incident Response team, he developed training and policy for hazardous materials and rescue operations. He also served for 10 years as a guest instructor for TEEEX in the annual Aircraft Fire Rescue and Hazardous Materials schools. As a regional training officer for TABC and the lead Sergeant for the Special Response Team, he was tasked with developing training, selection standards, and policies for 39 counties in central Texas.

Jim’s certifications and licenses include Master Peace Officer, Instructor Proficiency, Firearms Instructor, and Advanced EMT. He has well over 5000 hours of documented law enforcement training including multiple instructor certifications in emergency vehicle operations, force on force training, use of force, and active threat training. He has been actively involved in training throughout his career; providing training from basic academy level through advanced level instruction.

He holds an AAS in Business from Tarrant County College, a BAAS in Emergency Administration and Disaster Planning from the University of North Texas, and an MS in Criminal Justice Leadership and Management from Sam Houston State University.
