

Rick Munder

Rick Munder is a 32-year law enforcement veteran. He retired in 2021 from a police department in Southern California. He holds a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice Management and is a certified Master Instructor through the California Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training. Rick facilitates various law enforcement classes throughout the state. He also audits police training courses throughout California as a Quality Assessment Program (QAP) team member.

Rick is a committed lifelong learner, and teaching helps him further his passion for learning. Rick has vast experience in curriculum design, where he has developed many law enforcement-related courses for police agencies and for the State of California Commission of Peace Officers Standards and Training. Rick has appeared in several POST training videos as a Subject Matter Expert and is a published author. His works have appeared in periodicals and a collegiate book.

Rick has a strong leadership and teaching background. He has authored several department strategic plans and conducted team-building workshops. He is currently serving as a member of an eight-person committee tasked with rewriting and creating the curriculum for the Supervisory Course for the State of California - POST. This course is required of all newly promoted Sergeants within their first year.

Rick resides in California, is the father of two adult children, and is a grandfather.
